

MGT 102: SOCIOLOGY

Course Objectives

This course will introduce students to the discipline of Sociology in larger perspective in relation to management. The goals of the course are to encourage students to think critically about the needs of individual and social interaction in the society. Students will also learn to examine practical issues, problems and other human interactions and relationships.

-) Social structure on an individual's thought and society, social responsibility
-) Social constraints
-) Human behavior
-) Methods of analysis and other related fields
-) Impact of social forces

Course Contents

-) Nature, scope and subject matter of Sociology
-) Brief historical development of Sociology
-) Society and community
-) Relationship with other social Sciences
-) Social groups
-) Types of social groups
-) Social institutions
-) Structure and function of social institutions
-) Culture and related concepts
-) Culture and personality
-) Social control
-) Approach to study social stratification
-) Concept of social movement
-) Social and cultural change
-) Collective behavior
-) Social and cultural change
-) Impact of globalization on society and culture

Reference Books

-) Sociology by John J. Macionis, 15th Edition, July 2014
-) Sociology, 13th Edition by Richard T. Schaefer, Sep 2011